Derivative Highlights.

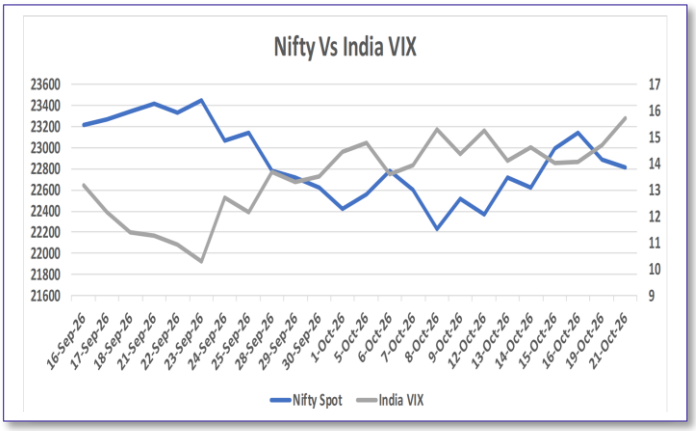

- On Wednesday, Nifty Futures ended lower by 0.66%, indicating a resumption of the prevailing downtrend after the recent pullback phase lost momentum. Derivative data pointed towards long unwinding, as open interest declined alongside sustained trading activity, highlighting the exit of bullish positions and a weakening market structure. Market sentiment remained cautious, with India VIX surging nearly 6.3%, reflecting a rise in fear and uncertainty among market participants. Further, the Put-Call Ratio continued to decline, indicating weakening bullish conviction and reinforcing the overall negative undertone.
- Meanwhile, Bank Nifty Futures underperformed the broader market, declining 1.03% with a noticeable increase in volumes, signalling stronger selling pressure. Technically, the index witnessed a breakdown below the rising trendline support drawn from the September 29 swing low and subsequent higher lows, suggesting deterioration in the short-term price structure. On the derivatives front, the index also witnessed long unwinding, reflecting the exit of bullish positions amid the weakness. The Put-Call Ratio declined further, reinforcing the bearish bias. Meanwhile, the ATM implied volatility stood at 15.6%, indicating only moderate volatility expectations despite the recent decline. The subdued IV suggests limited bullish conviction and expectations of a gradual continuation of the downtrend.
- For the weekly series, the 22900 strike has significant call open interest, followed by the 23000 strike. On the put side, 22800 has a substantial open interest, followed by the 22700 strike. Going ahead, The 22630–22650 zone, corresponding to the yesterday's lower range, will act as immediate support. A decisive breakdown below this range could drag Nifty towards 22500. On the upside, the 22960–22980 zone, near the 25-day EMA, is likely to act as an immediate hurdle. A sustained move above this range could trigger a short-covering rally towards 23130.
- In Bank Nifty, the 55000 strike has significant call open interest, followed by the 55500 strike. On the put side, 54500 has a substantial open interest, followed by a 54000. The 54400–54500 zone will act as immediate support. A decisive breakdown below this range could extend the correction towards 54000. On the upside, the 55500–55600 zone, near the 25-day EMA, is likely to act as a hurdle. A sustained breakout above this range could extend the recovery towards 56000.
